

The German Institute for Oriental Studies

cordially invites you to a public lecture given by

Dr. Kevin Butcher

American University of Beirut

On

The Silver Coinage of Roman Arabia

Shortly after the annexation of the Nabataean kingdom, the Romans issued a silver coinage of tetradrachms and drachms which appear to be associated with the new province of Arabia. The metallurgy, types and styles of these coins points to a rather complex minting history and sheds some light on the nature of provincial silver coinage in the eastern Roman empire.

Wednesday, 26th of October, 7:00 p.m.
Rue Hussein Beyhum – Zokak al-Blat – near Burj al-Murr
Refreshments will be served after the lecture